LINCOLN AS A MAN

Abe Lincoln was 50 years of age when elected President of our United States. This man, one of our greatest citizens, had one scant year of schooling.

Poverty taught him the value of industry, of skill, of reputation.

His labor taught him his individual right to the fruits of his toil.

When trials and tribulations seemed more than he could bear, he found peace in solitude. When we read his great decisions, know that they were made after a thoughtful interlude in solitude, they seem inspired.

His birthday is the 12th. He gave his life to a cause, brought unity to a Nation. We can very profitably give this great American a few minutes of our time.
